

Presentation Exercise: Chapter 34

Fill in the Blank. Deponent verbs are “_____ in form, _____ in _____ and _____.”

Fill in the Blank. Deponents have no _____ endings, only _____ ones.

True or False. Deponents typically have just as many forms as non-deponent verbs.

Translate the deponent verb loquitur. _____

True or False. Either a verb is deponent or it's not. A verb cannot be made deponent.

True or False. No single thing characterizes all deponents except that they're deponent.

Multiple Choice. Proto-Indo-European had a voice between active and passive called _____ which shows the subject's interest or involvement in the action of the sentence.

- a. center                      b. middle                      c. personal                      d. deponent

Fill in the Blank. In a Latin dictionary a deponent verb has _____ on the end of its first principal part and _____ on the end of its second principal part.

True or False. Except for voice, deponents act the way regular verbs act when they conjugate according to their conjugations.

Multiple Choice. What is the expectation of most deponent verbs?

- a. an ablative agent                      c. an accusative direct object
b. a genitive object                      d. a dative indirect object

Fill in the Blank. The deponent verb utor expects a/n _____ object.

Circle the correct voice of the participles which are formed from deponent verbs. Indicate whether the participle is active or passive in form (will it look active or passive?) and meaning (will it translate as active or passive?).

Participle	Form	Meaning
Present Active	ACTIVE / PASSIVE	ACTIVE / PASSIVE
Future Active	ACTIVE / PASSIVE	ACTIVE / PASSIVE
Perfect Passive	ACTIVE / PASSIVE	ACTIVE / PASSIVE
Future Passive	ACTIVE / PASSIVE	ACTIVE / PASSIVE

True or False. The perfect passive participle of deponent verbs is one of several ways to say “having verb-ed” in Latin.

Fill in the Blank. The future passive participle (-nd-) retains its passive sense largely due to its association with the _____ construction.

Translate the following deponent participles and give the expectation of each.

	Translation	Expectation
sequens	_____	_____
secuturus	_____	_____
secutus	_____	_____
sequendus	_____	_____

Fill in the Blank. Regular Latin verbs create active imperatives by dropping the final _____ from the ending used to create second-person forms.

Give the present imperative endings for deponent verbs.

singular _____ plural _____

True or False. Sequere and hortare are infinitives.

Multiple Choice. How many principal parts do most Latin deponents have?

- a. one                      b. two                      c. three                      d. four

Give the principal parts of the verb sequor:

True or False. Dictionaries and word lists always include sum after the perfect passive participle of a deponent verb because it is a mandatory feature of its principal parts.

Fill in the Blank. The term for verbs which have deponent present forms but regular perfect forms is _____.

True or False. Roman authors never use verbs like audeo in a true passive sense.
